REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL:
J. F. HARTRANFT.
FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL:
JACOB M. CAMPBELL.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The election in this State on Tuesday was for a Governor, five Councillors, twelve Senators and over three hundred Representatives, with a Railroad Commissioner and numerous county and town officers. National politics have entirely controlled the contest, and the result, upon a vote larger than ever before given in the State, is eminently satisfactory. Upon a vote of 71,591 in 1860, the Republican majority was 4,483; upon a vote of 68,346, in 1864, the majority was 5,666. The vote of 1860 was the largest ever cast in the State before this week. The indications now are that the total vote of last Tuesday reaches at least 75,000, and upon this vote the Republicans give HARRIMAN at least 3,000 majority, elect four of the five Councillors, and have some seventy majority in the other branch of the Legislature.

The impeachment has been made the great issue in the canvass, and the popular interest in that question, not less than the extraordinary efforts of politicians, have probably brought out within a very few hundreds of every legal vote in the State. In no New England State does partizan feeling run higher than in New Hampshire, and in none is there a more intelligent population. The result is, therefore, a glorious triumph for the Republican interpretation of Constitutional and Popular Rights.

Dispatches indicating a Waterloo defeat for the friends of "my policy" in New Hampshire were received at Washington on the afternoon of the election day, and were immediately communicated to the President, who was then holding a Cabinet meeting. It is reported, no doubt with truth, that the "humble individual" and his advisers were stunned as by a thunderbolt, and the meeting immediately broke up. Let them heed the omen!

THE New York Democratic Convention was held yesterday at Albany. Its members without any ceremony threw overboard Mr. Pendleton and declared Mr. Seymour their choice for the Presidency. Nor was that the strangest proceeding. The seductive greenback policy which has already entered so largely into the advance campaign of the Democracy was repudiated in a set speech by Mr. Seymour, made after his recommendation for the Presidency, and the platform adopted for the Empire State ingeniously ignores the fact that any financial question will enter the forthcoming Presidential canvass. We have already predicted as much. The Democracy thrust for solution a question on the people which tickles the Western masses as well as the middle and poorer classes in all sections of the country, but proves obnoxious to the wealthy schemers who manipulate at pleasure the machinery of that organization. In taking no action on the bond question the New York Convention displayed a lack of moral courage, fearing to meet a live issue with honesty and frankness, preferring to ignore it entirely rather than lose the prestige it has already obtained with the masses of the party in the West. Thus it seems that with the Democracy palatable and digestible political food in some quarters is poisonous and unpalatable in others.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION was held yesterday at Philadelphia and was largely attended. Full reports of the proceedings will be found in our telegraph columns. The Convention instructed the State delegates to the National Convention at Chicago, to support GRANT for President and CURTIN for Vice President. The re-nomination of Messrs. HARTRANFT and CAMPBELL for Auditor General and Surveyor General, was a well deserved compliment paid officers of the commonwealth who have faithfully served the people in their respective positions. With such leaders success at the ballot box in October is a certain and foregone conclusion. The Convention was harmonious and much unanimity of feeling and sentiment prevailed.

MR. GROW and GOV. GEARY yesterday withdrew their names from the canvass for the Vice Presidential recommendation of the State Republican Convention, thus leaving the field clear to MR. CURTIN. This course was very honorable and praiseworthy in those gentlemen, as both would have developed considerable strength had they remained in the contest. They preferred that harmony and unanimity of action should prevail in the ranks of the party rather than receive personal honor or advancement. Their care for the best interests of the party will be accepted as new evidence of their integrity and worth, and will be gratefully remembered, when the proper opportunity is afforded, by the loyal masses of the Commonwealth.

THE UNION watchfires in Kentucky are burning up brightly again. There are cheering signs of a general reaction throughout the State, and, under the lead of BAKER, the gallant Republican nominee for Governor, of Col. JACKSON, of Gen. HOBSON and of Hon. W. H. WADSWORTH, of Maysville, who has left the Conservatives in disgust, the cause of the Union and of Republicanism will not only deserve but will yet win success.

A LEADING Democrat in the Ohio Legislature is said to have declared in a debate on Saturday last, that he "would rather trust the Democracy in political matters than God Almighty!" Would it be unjust to intimate that this frank avowal no more than expresses the long-cherished principle of many of the leaders of that party?

THE first number of the Cincinnati Evening Chronicle comes to us, a neatly printed and carefully edited journal, while its columns have a business look, which augurs favorably for its financial success. Republicanism has a new advocate and should sustain it as it deserves.

—The workmen in the shops of the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad at Nashville are on a strike. They have been receiving heretofore double pay for all work after hours or on Sunday. An order has recently been issued to the effect that the men shall receive only the regular pay for any such extra labor. Hence the strike.

—Advices received from South America, announce that the cholera is making terrible ravages in the Argentine Confederation. At Buenos Ayres much indignation is expressed at the cowardice of the physicians and people in flying from the country. In Cordova the victims number seven thousand.

UNION REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

Grant and Curtin for President and Vice President.

The Platform Adopted.

Public Debt to be Paid According to its Legal Requirements

Generals Hartranft and Campbell Unanimously Nominated for Auditor General and Surveyor General.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 11, 1868.

The State Republican Convention was called to order at eleven o'clock, in the Academy of Music, by Col. Frank Jordan, Chairman of the State Executive Committee, who made an eloquent speech, referring to past trials and certain triumphs in the future.

Col. William B. Mann, of Philadelphia, was elected temporary Chairman. He also made a speech. He referred to the New Hampshire election, which elicited enthusiastic cheers, as also did allusions to General Grant and ex-Gov. Curtin.

The usual Committees on Organization and Resolutions were appointed.

Hon. Lemuel Todd, of Carlisle, was elected President, and made a speech, endorsing Congress (enthusiastic cheers) and favoring Grant and Curtin for President and Vice President.

CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT.

H. Bucher Swope, of Clearfield, moved to nominate Grant for President and Curtin for Vice President.

Mr. Russell Errett, of Allegheny, moved to strike out Curtin and insert Hon. B. F. Wade.

Mr. John S. Mann, of Potter, called for a division on the question.

A vote was taken and Gen. Grant declared to be the unanimous choice for President. [Loud cheers.]

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Mr. McClure moved for a calling of the roll, each delegate to vote his preference for Vice President. Carried.

The roll was called. Andrew G. Curtin received one hundred and nine votes; Benjamin F. Wade twenty-two; Edwin M. Stanton one.

Mr. Marshall, of Allegheny, voted for Curtin. The rest of the Allegheny delegation, with Messrs. McIntyre and Marks, of Philadelphia, Wiley, of Lancaster, Barner, of Somerset, Barr, of Dauphin, Knorr, of Northumberland, Goodrich, of Bradford, Brower, of Montour, Hoffman and Clyde, of Dauphin Pott, of Somerset, Mann, of Potter, Frazier, of York, Gehr, of Franklin, and McCormick, of Venango, voted for Benjamin F. Wade.

Mr. Moore, of Washington, voted for Edwin M. Stanton.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Cochran, of York, reported resolutions from the Committee, strongly endorsing Grant and Curtin; denouncing President Johnson; strongly approving the policy of Congress and impeachment; calling for the payment of the public debt according to its legal requirements; citing the Declaration of Independence as the basis of Republican sentiments; calling for economy in public expenditures and reduction of taxation; thanking the soldiers and sailors for their services and Stanton for his course; calling on the Senate to remove President Johnson speedily; approving of a registry law; asking the protection of naturalized citizens abroad, and endorsing Governor Geary's administration.

NOMINATIONS.

General John F. Hartranft, was nominated for Auditor General and General J. M. Campbell for Surveyor General, both unanimously.

INSTRUCTING DELEGATES.

A resolution instructing all delegates to Chicago to vote as a unit for Grant and Curtin excited discussion. Curtin was strongly opposed by Messrs. Mann of Potter, Bayne, Marshall, Purviance and Errett of Allegheny, and supported by Messrs. Swope of Clearfield, Mann of Philadelphia, and Cochrane. The vote on the resolution was, yeas ninety-eight, nays forty.

The other resolutions were adopted unanimously.

Adjourned to seven o'clock p. m.

CURTIN DELEGATES TO BE SENT TO CHICAGO.

Previous to adjournment this afternoon Mr. McClure introduced a resolution authorizing the chair to appoint a committee of one from each Congressional District to report delegates from each to the Chicago Convention and one elector, and to select those already appointed, if Curtin men; if not, to select others.

On this question a debate came on at the evening session, and speeches were made against it by Messrs. Errett, Mann of Potter, Bayne and McCormick, and for it by Messrs. McClure and Mann of Philadelphia.

The resolution then passed—yeas, eighty-four; nays, forty-seven.

The Convention then adjourned.

[By Associated Press.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.—The Republican State Convention was called to order by Col. Jordan, Chairman of the State Central Committee. Wm. B. Mann, of Philadelphia, presided temporarily, and was succeeded by General Lemuel Todd, of Cumberland county.

The Convention proceeded to ballot as a means of ascertaining the preferences of members for candidates for President and Vice President, and declared for Grant unanimously. For Vice President, Andrew G. Curtin received 109, B. F. Wood 22, and E. M. Stanton 1.

Hartranft and Campbell were unanimously nominated for re-election as Auditor General and Surveyor General.

The following were chosen electors at large: C. Morrison Coates, of Philadelphia; Thomas M. Marshall, Pittsburgh.

The following were chosen delegates at large: Colonel J. W. Forney, James Orne, of Philadelphia; General Harry White, of Indiana; E. Reed Myer, of Bradford; J. W. Blanchard, of Lawrence; Thomas E. Cochrane, of York; Linn Bartholemew, of Schuylkill, and Gen. Wm. Lilly, of Carbon.

The following resolutions were adopted:

That the great Republican party of America, without which the rebellion against the Government would have consummated the division of the Union and the perpetuation of human slavery, with the aid, comfort and full approval of the present Democratic party, is in the fore front of another peril and another trial. Electing its candidate for President in 1860, and re-electing him in 1864, it is called upon to decide whether all the sacrifices of blood and treasure have not only been in vain, but were simply contributions for the restoration of treason, under the influence of a man, who, clothed with the confidence of his country, is prevented from overthrowing the Government solely by the wise and patriotic stand taken by a loyal Congress.

That we add our voice to the loud acclaim in favor of General U. S. Grant as the Republican candidate for President, and in so doing feel that we are not simply responding to the wishes of constituents, or helping to pay a portion of the debt we owe to that great soldier, but preparing the way for that substantial triumph which, while perpetuating the Republican party, preserves and perpetuates Republican creeds.

That we earnestly call upon the Senate of the United States, sitting as a Court of Impeachment, to proceed without fear, favor or affection, and that the people of Pennsylvania will stand by and maintain the just judgment of the law.

That the soldiers and sailors of the Union, who fought and conquered armed rebellion in the field, and stood true to the principles which they vindicated and the flag which floated over them and led them to victory, are entitled to the undying gratitude of the loyal people, and as they saved the country by trials, sufferings and sacrifices, they have considerable claims to the highest honors of the nation.

That we tender our most cordial thanks to Edwin M. Stanton, for the firmness, courage and patriotism with which he has maintained the majesty of the law and the rights of the people against the attempted invasions of faithless Executive and his purchased instruments.

That as experience is alike the best instructor of man and nations, so the experience of the rebellion gives us renewed confidence in the pledges and precepts of the Declaration of Independence, and with these as our guiding stars the Republican party must always succeed.

That no contract so eloquent could be presented as that between the loud professions of Andrew Johnson and the silent patriotism of Ulysses S. Grant; that as one deals in promises to deceive, the other deals in acts that convince, and that while Johnson has fallen rapidly away from his many voluntary covenants, Grant has accepted equal justice and Radical Republicanism as part alike of conscience and duty.

That the public debt, incurred for the purpose of preserving the existence of the nation, is a sacred obligation, binding the people to its payment in the utmost good faith to the full extent of the legal requirements; that the greatest requirements of prudence and judgment are still required, and should, as far as attainable, be employed at once to maintain the public faith and credit and render the burden as light as practicable upon the productive industry of the country and the wages and proceeds of labor; that it is the dictate of sound policy, as well of greatest wisdom, that the domestic industry of the country should be sustained and protected against foreign competition by adequate tariff laws, and that in whatever particular the existing laws on the subject are defective, they should be amended and made efficient for that purpose, as well as the purpose of raising revenue for the Government.

That by the election of Gen. Grant to the Presidency, all domestic dissensions and factious opposition to the complete reconstruction of the Union, on the firm foundations laid by the wise and judicious legislation of Congress, will be immediately suppressed and harmony and good feeling restored, settled relations of business established, and the revival and improvement of all disturbed sources of national wealth and prosperity be secured, when it is at once made manifest that the people of this country are firmly fixed in their determination that the fruits of the late bloody and obstinate struggle shall not be lost and that factions and rebellious resistance to the laws shall be effectually overthrown, which attempted to subvert the Government by savage cruelty, rapine and murder.

That Pennsylvania proudly tenders to the loyal people of the Union Hon. Andrew G. Curtin, her great war Governor, and the Soldier's friend.

That every American citizen, whether by birth or adoption, is entitled to the protection of the nation and its flag, and while it is incumbent on the Government to institute negotiations for the establishment of international law for expatriation, recognizing naturalization by one nation as terminating the allegiance due to another, and conferring all rights of citizenship, it is no less its duty to vindicate its people of all classes from oppression or interference at home and abroad when in the legitimate and peaceful exercise of legal and personal rights.

That delegates from Pennsylvania to the National Republican Convention in Chicago are instructed to cast their votes as a unit, through its Chairman, in favor of Grant for President and Curtin [illegible] declared the choice of the people of the State for those positions, and that the right of substitution for absent delegates shall be solely with the delegation from the State.

Considerable opposition was made to the last resolution. The resolutions were then divided and all except the last adopted.

At the evening session a lengthy discussion ensued upon the question of instructing the delegation to the National Convention to vote as a unit for candidates.

The electoral ticket was provided for, and the Convention adjourned sine die at a late hour.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION

The Vote the Largest Ever Polled in the State—Harriman Re-Elected by Three Thousand Majority—Legislature Largely Republican.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CONCORD, N. H., March 11.—Returns from one hundred and seventy-five towns give Harriman, Republican, 22,792; Sinclair, Democrat, 30,907. Republican majority 2,885. Fifty-eight towns and small places remain to be heard from which are about equally Republican and Democratic. It is probable that Harriman's majority will be about three thousand. The whole vote will probably exceed seventy-two thousand, the largest vote ever polled in the State. The Legislature will be largely Republican.

The Republicans elect four out of five Councillors and nine out of twelve Senators. They have probably about seventy majority. Harriman's majority is somewhat reduced from last year.

CONCORD, March 11.—Returns from one hundred and seventy-eight towns give Harriman 37,438; Sinclair 21,217; scattering nineteen. Harriman's plurality 3,211. There are fifty-three towns to hear from, which last year stood Harriman, 4,800; Sinclair, 5,514. The aggregate vote this year will probably reach 76,500.

NORWICH, CONN., March 11.—News from New Hampshire, caused great excitement in this city. At midnight, in spite of the rain, a salute was fired in honor of the success of the Republicans.

A special from Washington, D. C., says: There is great rejoicing here among the Republicans over the result of the New Hampshire election, and a corresponding despondency among the Democrats. But few of the latter were expecting such a signal triumph for the Republican ticket. Yesterday they were in high spirits, and boldly proclaimed that the impeachment movement would give New Hampshire to the Democrats. Extensive preparations had been made for a celebration here Tuesday night by them. Powder had been purchased to be used freely; bands of music were engaged to serenade the leading Democrats and the President, and there was to have been a grand old fashioned glorification. About two o'clock, while the Cabinet was in session, Col. Thomas Florence received the first dispatches from New Hampshire, stating that that State had hopelessly gone for the Radicals. He rushed to the White House, and disregarding the door-keepers, interrupted the Cabinet meeting with the announcement. It came like a thunderbolt to A. J. and his advisers, and the Cabinet meeting ended. As the fight in New Hampshire was made directly on the impeachment question by the Radicals, they maintain that it shows conclusively that the people now demand that it be pressed through.

FLOOD IN THE WEST.

Ice Gorge at Rock Island—Bridges, Boats, &c., Carried Off.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ROCK ISLAND, March 11.—The ice gorged below the city yesterday afternoon, causing a rapid rise in the river. At nine o'clock two-thirds of the city was flooded, and the people on several streets were taken from their houses in small boats. The Arsenal bridge has been carried away, causing a loss of fourteen thousand dollars. Eight flat boats, valued at thirty thousand dollars, used on the river improvements, were carried down the stream and will prove a total loss. Considerable damage has already been done in Davenport, Iowa.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, March 11.—The gorge gave way last night. The river fell rapidly, and is now entirely free from ice. The bridge of the Rock Island and Pacific Railroad has been seriously damaged. Trains will not be able to cross for some time. One of the solid stone piers was carried twenty feet down stream.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 11.—The whole Republican city ticket was elected yesterday by seventy majority. A gain of 223.

BRIGHTON, N. J., March 11—The city election yesterday was carried by the Democrats, who gained 112 from last spring.

EXPATRIATION QUESTION.

Mr. Van Trump, in a speech in the House yesterday, favored the amendment of the bill from the Committee on foreign affairs so as to allow American citizens emigrating to another country the right to declare their intention and to make it a matter of record in the Federal Courts, to simplify and render certain the evidence of his expatriation. He was also in favor of providing by law that such persons could only again become citizens of the government in accordance with the naturalization laws, like other aliens.

MAIL ROUTE TRANSFERED.

The Postoffice Department to-day ordered the Baltimore and Washington mails for and from New Orleans to be transferred to the route via Lynchburgh, Va, the Knoxville and Chattanooga Railroad Company having submitted a new schedule and promising sure connections in the future. The mails between New York, Philadelphia and New Orleans will continue on the route via. Louisville, Ky., until the performances of the Knoxville route under the new schedule are fairly tested.

MONTANA TERRITORY.

John H. Bruce, of Montana, is here for the purpose of obtaining an enabling act for the admission of that Territory into the Union as a State. He represents he has received much encouragement from members, and states Montana has sixty-five thousand inhabitants.

THE GERMAN NATURALIZATION TREATY.

The Senate Committee of Foreign Relations had a protracted discussion this morning over the Bancroft treaty between the German Confederation and the United States, relative to the rights of naturalized American citizens. With the exception of one unimportant amendment he treaty will be reported to the Senate as it came from the State Department.

NOMINATIONS PASSED UPON.

The Senate in executive session confirmed the nomination of J. Ross Browne as Minister to China, and Chas. K. Tuckerman as Minister resident to Greece.

IMPEACHMENT.

A Correspondent Has an Interview With the President.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 11.—The World's correspondent gives the details of an interview with President Johnson on the subject of impeachment, during which the President stated that he should respond to the summons to appear by counsel, and after a long consultation upon the merits and demerits of the charges brought against him, concluded the interview by saying:

"The managers of impeachment and others who applaud them are, in a certain sense, inconsistent. Recalling the time, on the eve of the rebellion, when I stood in the Senate almost alone in insisting upon the duty of the Government to uphold the Constitution and the Union against the traitors who threatened both, I recall a class of men in and out of Congress who lacked courage to defend either. Standing on the same platform that I occupied then, I look around and see these men bold enough, in place of their former weakness, to disregard the clearest provisions of constitutional law. After the war is over, in which they took none except a wordy part, they have relapsed to their original status as politicians, and hold the Constitution at too slight a value to be either valiantly defended or treated with reverence. Finally, it is declared that I, who have as honestly striven as I know how to administer this Government in accordance with the Constitution, shall be sacrificed along with the constitutional prerogatives of the Presidential office to a party necessity. Jefferson Davis, the head and front of the rebellion, is not brought to trial, yet Congress proposes to try the President at once, for what kind of offense, compared with that of Mr. Davis, the country and the Senate may, perhaps, justly decide."

THE INDIANS.

Friendly Feeling Manifested—Garrisons to be Withdrawn—Depredations in Montana.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, March 11.—Advices received at the Military Headquarters here from Fort Laramie say: The Indians who have congregated at this post manifest a very friendly feeling, and have come in for the express purpose of meeting the Peace Commissioners with a view of making a treaty with them. Dr. Matthews, Special Indian Agent, who had an interview with the Crows and Sioux near Fort Phil. Kearney last month, reports them in favor of peace with the whites. Red Cloud, the most hostile of the Sioux chiefs, and all of the upper Indians were there, en route for Laramie, to meet the Peace Commission.

General Sherman has received instructions from Washington to withdraw the garrisons of forts Reno, C. G. Smith and Phil. Kearney as soon as the season will permit. These troops will be distributed to other posts, because the line on which they are at present located is scarcely used, emigrants preferring the line of the Missouri river via Fort Benton. They also prefer to travel by way of the Pacific railroad to its terminus, and thence by the old route.

Montana papers contradict the reports of the burning of Kennedy's ranche and the capture of Mrs. Kennedy and her children. The report was started by the appearance of Indians in the vicinity, and their committing a number of depredations. The commanding officer at Fort Shaw placed a sufficient escort for Wells, Fargo & Co.'s coaches, running from Helena to Fort Benton, securing the safety of travel.

Several hundred settlers of Trinity Gulch and Prickly Pear Valley have petitioned the Governor of Montana to furnish them arms and ammunition for the purpose of defending themselves against the Indians. Governor Smith ordered Col. Scribner to proceed to the threatened locality, and upon investigation to furnish the needed arms and ammunition to the citizens.

NEW ORLEANS.

Arrest for Perjury—Fire at Jackson Texas—Tax Laws.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, March 11.—Governor Baker appeared before United States Commissioner Shannon, yesterday, to answer to the charge of perjury in taking the oath of office, and was released on giving bonds in two thousand dollars to appear at a future day. The affidavit making the charge is signed by Henry Dennis, "his mark." Dennis is a negro.

The total loss by the fire at Jefferson, Texas, on the night of the 29th ult., foots up over a million of dollars. The Phœnix and Ætna Insurance Companies are the principal losers.

The City Council last night adopted resolutions requesting Gen. Hancock to suspend the laws staying the collection of back taxes as a means of improving the condition of the city finances.

DARING ROBBERY.

Express Messenger Knocked Senseless in His Car and Robbed of $20,000.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, March 11.—S. B. Hayman, American Express Messenger on the Hamilton and Dayton train, due here at ten o'clock, was knocked senseless while counting his packages of money by some persons unknown, who entered the car by means of false keys after the train left Lockland. The robber escaped at the next station, carrying with him packages containing $20,000. The messenger was discovered in a bleeding and senseless condition by a brakeman on the train. He is very seriously injured and now delirious. The money belonged to parties in Indiana and Illinois.

South Carolina Republican Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHARLESTON, March 11.—The interest in the Constitutional Convention has been transferred to the Republican State Convention which met last night, to nominate candidates for State officers. Both Conventions are in a great measure identical and a large majority negroes. The nominating Convention sat with close doors, excluding reporters. It has transpired, that after a stormy session General R. K. Scott, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, was nominated for Governor. The nominations are considered equivalent to an election.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE CONDITION OF IRELAND.

LONDON, March 11.—In the House of Commons last night, John Francis Maguire, member for Cork, in moving that the House go into Committee on the state of Ireland, said, though Ireland was a part of the empire, and was now peaceful, yet the personal liberty of every man in that country was at the mercy of spies, police or government officials, and this state of things existed when the records of the courts showed there were few cases of ordinary crime. He then quoted statistics of pauperism, emigration and other evils. The country, he declared, was decaying, and its people in despair. Discontent was a word inadequate to express the state of feeling. He denied the correctness of the assertion made by Lord Kimberly, that the farming class in Ireland were loyal. The cruelty of the past had made a deep impression upon the Irish people, and the effect of all future laws should be to obliterate these bitter remembrances. The laws in regard to tenure of land were defective and operated so disastrously that the means of a tenant, which were good two years ago, are now worthless. He denounced London guilds, which held large tracts of Irish land, for their cruelty to tenants. Ireland needed no commissions of inquiry on the established Church. That Church was not suited to the majority of the people, who dissented from it. What would the people of England think or do, if Dr. Manning should lay claim and occupy the See of Canterbury? Exeter Hall would revolt, and the religious ultraist would join the ranks of the Fenians.

Mr. Charles Neale, member for Oxford City, regretted Mr. Magrure had offered no plan for the solution of the question.

After speeches from C. Derby Griffith, member for Devizes, and Sir Frederick Heygate, member from Londonderry, Lord Clinton moved the adoption by the House in Committee of a resolution, in substance as follows:

That the discontent of Ireland is a source of uneasiness to the empire and [illegible], that the laws for Ireland should be framed to suit the wishes of the people; that the present church, school and land tenure systems are unjust; and that in the opinion of this House the wrongs should be righted.

James Obeirne, member for Cashel, in the course of his remarks declared a large body of the Irish were sympathizers with the Fenians. He replied at length to the attack made upon Ireland by Mr. Roebuck.

Earl Mayo, Chief Secretary for Ireland, made a long and able speech. He admitted great discontent prevailed in Ireland, but said it was exclusively nourished by the Irish in America. The Irish living in Australia or Canada felt no discontent, and even in Ireland the feeling was confined to the lower classes only. There was no prominent Fenian leader in Ireland who was not aided and pushed by friends in the United States. He repelled the charge of English misgovernment. The members of the present government at Dublin were nearly all Irishmen, and the police force was composed entirely of natives. He denied that Ireland was governed for the advantage of England. Her wealth had been increased within the last quarter of a century. English capital was applied to the development of her resources and improvement of her condition. The rate of wages was low, but it was improving. The consumption of spirits, which is the best test of the people's material prosperity, was increasing. There was nothing else which would serve to indicate the prostration and decay spoken of, except the positive decrease of crime. He advocated the maintenance of the present policy, but promised that a bill would soon be introduced for the relief of tenants.

At the conclusion of Earl Mayo's speech, the debate was adjourned till next Thursday.

The House of Commons, this evening, in Committee of the Whole, agreed to port for the passage of a bill introduced by Mr. Gladstone for the abolition of church rates.

The Platform Adopted.

Seymour and the President.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, March 11.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order by Samuel J. Tilden, and Marshall B. Chaplain was appointed President. A committee was appointed to report names for delegates to the National Convention, who were instructed to vote as a unit in accordance with the will of the majority thereof. The Committee on Resolutions offered the name of Horatio Seymour as the preference of the Convention for the Presidency, which was referred. Subsequently the Convention responded to the request.

Mr. Seymour will address the Convention, and it took a recess.

SPEECH OF MR. SEYMOUR.

Upon the re-assembling of the Convention Governor Seymour was loudly called for and received with repeated cheers. After discussing other topics, he spoke at length on the financial question. While he opposed the national bank system and favored the taxation of government bonds, he said: I deem it my duty to speak frankly on the subject of the debt. We owe it to our friends in other States to let them know our position, so we may not fall into the fatal error of making a sectional question a part of our National platform. They would, with justice, reproach us if we suffered them to hinder us in our battle in this great State, which must be won or our country is lost. We have issues enough, with the party in power, on which we think as one man, to overwhelm it with disgrace and defeat. We must not distract our counsels with questions, however important, upon which there is so much doubt, and which cannot be settled in many years to come. We must not thus turn away the public mind from the dangers which threaten the immediate destruction of our government and the liberty of our people. Even now the hand of usurpation is stretched out to rob us of our rights, and it must be struck down, first of all. Whatever our views may be of the payment of the debt, it will fall upon the future. Do what we may, a generation that will come after us will decide its mode, and without regard to anything we may say. The depressed industry of the land demands that the load of taxation shall be lightened. Our debt is not due until fifteen years from this time. How very few of those who now discuss this question will be living then. If in the meanwhile our country is well governed, if there is economy in its affairs, and the rights and liberties of our people shall be unimpaired, our population will be increased from thirty-five to fifty millions, and our wealth will be more than doubled. Then this debt will rest more lightly upon greater numbers and greater wealth than it oppresses the depressed industry and the disheartened spirit of the people. We deeply regret that our position should be censured in any quarter; but we cannot lower our standard; we will not betray those who come to its support. It is enough that honor forbids this, even if we could stoop to aught that is less than honorable. Even policy would dictate that this great State should be held firm and steadfast in its position, if we hope to save our country from the dangers which menace it. There is a perfect accord in the Democratic ranks as to the policy and need of honesty and economy, but there is some difference of opinion as to the construction of the contract with public creditors. Some hold it is right and is due to the tax payers that we should save what we could by paying the principal of the debt in currency; but they underrate their own argument. It is a mistake to suppose the interest of the bondholders and tax payers are antagonistic. The fact is overlooked that in order to make any saving by giving the bondholder a worthless paper, we would bring upon ourselves disaster and dishonor, which will cost a hundred fold what we can save. It means we are to give to the laborer for his toil a base currency. It means the honor of our country shall be stained; that our busines, shall be kept in uncertainty and confusion; that the laboring man shall suffer by the increased cost of comforts of life; that tax payers shall be burthened by a government proved to be corrupt and imbecile by this very depreciation of its money. We cannot afford to speculate upon the nation's honor at so fearful a cost. If we come into power, there will be no discredit on our currency, no speculation in paying our bonds in paper. I thank God the faith which we all hold as one man seeks to level up, not to level down. While, therefore, we may differ as to the construction of the contract with the public creditors, we must not confound the position of those who think it right to pay paper, but who battle to make that paper as good as gold, with the position of those who mean to pay not any, but who are destroying the value of that paper. That is repudiation. We are not trying to give paper to bond holders, but gold and silver to the people.

SEYMOUR ON PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

Mr. Seymour denounced Congress for its crimes already done, also for those it is now perpetrating against the liberties of the people and judiciary, and spoke strongly against the impeachment of the President, adding: I have no political prejudice in favor of Mr. Johnson. I have never seen him. He is not one I helped to place in office, nor have I ever advised him or been consulted by him as to his policy. I know he has been cheated and betrayed by those about him, who plotted his destruction from the outset. But while he has been most unhappy in his friends, no man has been so fortunate in his enemies. They have given him high place in history as one who suffered for the rights of the American people, and when he shall go to his final account, and his friends seek in clear, terse and lasting terms to tell that he was a man who loved his country and was hated by the corrupt and treasonable, they have only to chisel upon his tombstone that he was impeached by this House of Representatives and condemned by this Senate.

Mr. Seymour closed with an appeal to the bondholders to rescue our country from the hands of corrupt and wasteful men. By so doing they would not only best secure their own interests, but would gain the good will and gratitude of the oppressed laborers and tax payers. The speaker was warmly applauded at the close.

SPEECH OF MR. TILDEN.

Samuel J. Tilden spoke at length, reviewing the history of the political parties, contending the policy of the Republicans has been and is to impoverish the country, centralize power, paralyze industry, multiply taxation and elevate the negro while degrading the white man.

DELEGATES TO THE NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Delas Wolf, from the Committee, reported a full list of delegates to the National Convention, including the following at large: Horatio Seymour, S. J. Tilden, Sanford E. Church, H. C. Murphy; Alternates—Augustus C. Hand, J. W. McLean, A. P. Lansing, Geo. Law.

Among the District delegates are Erastus Brooks, Wm. M. Tweed, Jno. Morrissey, Emanual B. Hart, W. F. Allen, Jno. A. Green, E. P. Rass, Marshall B. Champlain, Joseph Warren, Wm. Williams, Augustus Schell, A. Oakey Hall, Albert Cardozo and William Cassiday.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

At the evening session Hon. A. B. Congo, from the Committee on Resolutions, reported the following:

The Democracy of New York, assembled at this extraordinary junction of public affairs to deliberate upon the solemn obligations they owe to themselves and their fellow citizens in the other States of the Union, and to express their high satisfaction that the representatives from every other State are to meet again, as of old, in the spirit which animated the fathers of the Republic, to lay anew the foundations of civil liberty, the Democratic masses of this State, with a unanimity never before surpassed, have brought to this Convention the assurance of their unbending purpose to lay aside all personal aspirations and local interests, and devote their entire energies to the work before them, so as to secure as the first necessity of political and social life, the restoration of the Union and re-establishment of the Constitution as the supreme law of the land, and to this they are impelled by the peculiar exigency of the terrible peril to which they are brought, for they find that, by a subversion of the time-honored policy which the people of this country established for the furtherance of their high interest, both Houses of the Congress of the United States, by successive violations of their pledges, infractions of the organic law and of the public faith, to encompass mere partisan ends, have brought our people and institutions to the very verge of ruin; they have broken the resolutions affirmed so often in the face of the civilized would, that the warlike measures and energies of the government should be directed only to a restoration of the States unlawfully sought to be taken out of the Union; they have, after tapping the life blood of the people and expending millions of treasure to accomplish this end, driven the restored States out, denying their existence in the Union, treating them as subjugated provinces, and as held by right of conquest, and now hold ten sovereignties subject to their control and military supervision, and the guaranteed dominion of an inferior race; they have defiantly spurned the Constitution as the organic law of the land, and issued their decrees and erected their will as the higher law, to which co-ordinate departments of the Government, the Judiciary and Executive, are to nod acquiescence, and to which the people are bound in fetters as thralls of their minions to submit without a murmur; they have, under the pretence of diminishing the public debt, imposed heavy tribute upon every citizen, saving always those who have riches, and on the poorer they have imposed an exorbitant tariff which has driven commerce from every sea; they have paralysed our manufactures by their excessive impositions; they have invented the most oppressive system of taxation to take from the laborer the hope of reward; and they have filled the land with swarms of public officials who harrass the people and eat out their substance to insure their dominance in the pending canvass; and to complete the awful conspiracy to overthrow the government of our fathers, they have resolved to depose the President and install one of the chief conspirators in his place, an act which the Conservative freemen of New York declare to be without justification or plausible excuse, and denounce as an outrage without parallel in the history of civilized government. By such methods they aspire to complete the usurpation which will subject the people of the North, as of the South, to military domination, for which causes them to be enemies to the peace, prosperity and liberties of the republic, and we invoke the aid of all lovers of civil liberty in every State to join us in one grand and successful effort to rid the country of such tyranny, secure the triumph of democratic principles and the restoration of the perfect Union of these States.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted and the Convention adjourned.

Mr. SHERMAN made the point of order that such a speech should not be permitted, but after some discussion withdrew the point, and Mr. DIXON proceeded, arraigning the Republican party for its course against the South and the policy of the President.

The bill was laid over.

The President pro tem. appointed as a Committee of Conference on the amendments to the bill in regard to the proceeds of captured and abandoned property Messrs. Edmunds, Fessenden and Trumbull.

FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

The House resumed the consideration of the Freedmen's Bureau bill, reported yesterday.

The bill, which is a substitute to the former bill, provides that the act entitled "an act to establish a Bureau for the relief of freedmen and refugees," approved March 3d, 1865, and the act entitled "an act to continue in force and amend an act to establish a Bureau for the relief of freedmen, refugees and other purposes," passed on the 16th of July, 1866, shall continue in force for a term of one year from and after the 16th day of July, in the year 1868, excepting so far as the same shall be herein modified, and the Secretary of War is hereby directed to re-establish said Bureau where the same has been wholly or in part discontinued; provided, he shall be satisfied the present safety of the freedmen shall require it.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of War to discontinue the operations of the bureau in any State, whenever any State shall be fully restored to its constitutional relations to the Government of the United States, and shall be duly represented in the Congress of the United States, unless upon advising with the Commissioner of the Bureau and upon full comparison of the condition of freedmen's affairs in such States, the Secretary of War shall be satisfied that the further continuance of the Bureau shall be necessary; provided, however, that the educational division of said Bureau shall not be affected or in any way interfered with until such State shall have made suitable provision for the education of the children of freedmen within said State.

SEC. 3. Unexpended balances in the hands of the Commissioner may be applied for the education of freedmen and refugees subject to the provisions of the law applicable thereto.

SEC. 5. Officers of Veteran Reserve Corps or volunteer service now on duty in the Bureau as Assistant Commissioners, agents, medical officers, or other capacity, who have been or may be mustered out of service, may be retained, where the same shall be required for the proper execution of the laws, as officers of the Bureau on such duty, and at the same salary compensation, and all advances from the date of their appointment, as now provided by law for the respective grades and duties at the dates of their muster out and discharge, and such officers so retained shall have respectively the same authority and jurisdiction as now conferred on officers of the Bureau by the act of Congress, passed the 16th day of July, 1866.

Mr. ELIOT spoke in advocacy of the bill and in defense of the Freedmen's Bureau, in regard to which he said the public mind had been led astray by the statements of the President, in whose word no reliance was to be placed.

The morning hour expiring, the bill went over till to-morrow.

NON CONCURRED IN.

The Senate amendment to the House bill to facilitate the payment of soldiers' bounties was non-concurred in and a Committee of Conference appointed.

ADMISSION OF ALABAMA.

The House took up the bill for the admission of Alabama.

Mr. FARNSWORTH, member of the Reconstruction Committee, opened the debate by a speech in support, contending that although the Reconstruction laws required a majority of the registered voters to vote on the Consitution, the State should nevertheless be admitted. First, because that provision was unusual and improper; and second, because intimidation was used to keep voters from the polls.

Mr. FARNSWORTH alluded to the statements made in affidavits to that effect, whereupon

Mr. WOOD inquired, assuming all the statements to be true, would it warrant a violation of a law of Congress?

Mr. FARNSWORTH replied in the affirmative, both for himself and for the Committee.

Mr. LOAN inquired how the fundamental condition in the bill, that universal suffrage should not be denied or abridged, could be enforced?

Mr. FARNSWORTH replied that Alabama would come in on that, and would be bound by it.

Mr. WOOD inquired how Alabama, if now admitted, and should afterwards deny or abridge the right of suffrage on account of color, could be taken out of the Union?

Mr. FARNSWORTH said it was not proposed to take her out of the Union again, but Alabama would be estopped from going behind the bill for her admission.

Mr. LOAN inquired the number of white votes cast in the Alabama election.

Mr. FARNSWORTH could not inform him. He stated there were thirty thousand white men in Alabama in full accord with the liberty loving people of the State.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pa., stated that but one thousand men voted against the Constitution, and they were supposed to be white men.

Mr. LOAN asked what assurance was there if Alabama were admitted, she would not, after the next election, be in the hands of rebels?

Mr. FARNSWORTH said it was enough to satisfy the Committee that a very large majority of the people of Alabama were in favor of the Constitution. He alluded again to the intimidation exercised and threats used in the rebel papers against all who voted for it.

Mr. ROSS inquired whether the loyal blacks in Alabama, were in the habit of reading rebel papers?

Mr. FARNSWORTH replied loyal blacks were usually as capable of reading rebel papers, or any other, as disloyal whites in his colleague's district

Mr. BOYER inquired whether any witnesses had been examined before the Committee, or whether the facts stated did not rest entirely on ex parte affidavits?

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, remarked that in the absence of his colleague [Mr. Farnsworth] three witnesses had been examined before the Committee.

Mr. ELDRIDGE subsequently stated that so far as the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Beck,) had any knowledge, there were no witnesses examined.

Mr. KERR asked whether Congress had before, in the admission of a State, reserved the right to repeal the acts of such State?

Mr. FARNSWORTH suggested that in the admission of the gentleman's own State, (Indiana,) conditions had been imposed.

Mr. KERR admitted there was a condition imposed in reference to the taxation of certain public lands, but any violation was to be remedied in the Courts and not by another law of Congress. The Speaker would bear him testimony the Courts had furnished that remedy.

Mr. FARNSWORTH asked where the Courts got authority?

Mr. KERR—They got it from the Constitution and laws of the United States.

Mr. FARNSWORTH—They got it from Congress, and if Congress can clothe the Courts with authority to execute part of the compact, why cannot Congress do it itself?

Mr. KERR—It was not a compact. It was simply a condition relating to Public Lands, in which the State of Indiana never had any title.

Mr. BECK, of the minority of the Committee on Reconstruction, took the floor in opposition to the bill. He disclaimed all knowledge of any report having been submitted to the Committee, and knew nothing of such a report until he saw it published in the papers this morning.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, said the gentleman from Kentucky had been generally very attentive to his duties in the Committee, and very polite, but that, nevertheless, the first thing that was read to the Committee was a short report, and he was very much astonished to find it had not been laid this morning on the desks of the members.

Mr. HURLBURD, of New York, concurred with the statement of Mr. Stevens. He recollected reading the report.

Mr. BECK inquired when and where it was read?

Mr. HURLBURD replied it was read on Saturday night, at the meeting held at the Chairman's room.

Mr. BECK declared neither he or his colleague (Mr. Brooks) had notice of any such meeting. He went on to argue against the bill. Even admitting, for the purpose of argument, all the reconstruction laws were constitutional, he claimed that under those laws even the Constitution of Alabama had been rejected, disguise as they might. The simple question was whether Congress should force on the people of Alabama a Constitution which every white man in the State loathed and abhorred. Out of seventy-five thousand registered white votes many had been given for the Convention, but not one had been cast for the Constitution. There were but one thousand and five white votes given, all told, and they were all against it. It would be much more manly for Congress to remove the veil, which was too transparent for disguise, and to declare Congress intended to hold and treat the ten Southern States as conquered provinces, to put them under their former slaves, and hold them for partisan purposes until they should vote for adding to the behests of Congress. Why should this bill be passed now, when, if the assertion were true that a majority of the voters of Alabama were in favor of this Constitution, it would be sent back and voted on again? Was it because it was necessary to have two Alabama Senators to vote for the impeachment of the President? Surely that would not be avowed. He warned Congress of the danger of putting too much power in the hands of General Grant—a man who had not shrank from sacrificing ten, twelve or thirty thousand men in the various battles of the Wilderness—lest it might turn out that he might be to Congress what Cromwell was to the Long Parliament.

Mr. ARNELL next spoke in support of the bill.

The bill was then laid aside temporarily, Mr. FARNSWORTH stating that a vote would be asked to-morrow.

RECONSTRUCTION EXPENSE.

The SPEAKER presented a communication from the Secretary of War, with a letter from General Meade, showing the necessity of an additional appropriation to carry out the reconstruction acts. Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

MILWAUKEE HARBOR.

Mr. PAINE introduced a bill to reimburse Milwaukee for expenditures on the harbor of that city. Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

FICTITIOUS BOND CANCELLATION.

Mr. VAN WYCK, from the Committee on Retrenchment, made a report on the reported fictitious destruction of bonds in the Treasury, which he asked to be laid on the table and printed.

Mr. LOGAN asked whether the report embraced the testimony?

Mr. VAN WYCK said it did not. The Committee did not deem it necessary to incur the expense of printing the testimony.

Mr. LOGAN objected to the reading of the report, unless the evidence was also presented and read. That evidence would show he was justified in making the statement, notwithstanding the fact that the very evening the inquiry was ordered a telegram had been sent to the Associated Press that his statement was without foundation. He did not intend to permit any imputation to be made on his veracity.

Mr. VAN WYCK explained, that having, in company with Mr. Laflin, called on Gen. Spinner the same evening, and ascertained there was no fraud or suspicion of fraud in the matter, he thought it his duty, not as a member of the Committee, nor as a member of Congress, but as a citizen of the United States, to make the facts known and remove the alarm and apprehension which the statements of the gentleman from Illinois was calculated to produce. He proceeded to explain in detail how the misapprehension had arisen.

A somewhat heated colloquy took place between Mr. Logan and Mr. Van Wyck, the former contending that in justice to him the evidence, which sustained his statement, should be published, and the latter holding that the Committee had only been influenced by the public aspect of the question, and had not deemed the veracity of the gentleman from Illinois to be called in question at all.

Mr. LAFLIN corroborated the statement of Mr. Van Wyck.

Mr. WELKER, a member of the Committee, disclaimed any idea on the part of the Committee of suppressing the evidence.

Mr. VAN WYCK said the evidence would be ready to-morrow morning, and he did not want to report until then.

Mr. HALSEY, another member of the Committee, said he had just seen the clerk who reported the testimony, who stated he could not have it transcribed this evening.

Mr. LOGAN obtained the floor and defended his own position. He declared that if the Treasury Department were charged with anything, it had its attorneys at both ends of the capitol to choke a man down or to cover him over with slime. One would suppose, he said, the Treasury Department was filled with angels, with the arch-angel Michael at their head, and that there was no such thing as corruption there. He asked the Committee on Retrenchment to state whether or not it had knowledge of the fact that the Treasury Department had redeemed seventy thousand dollars of counterfeit bonds some time ago, which fact had not been made public?

Mr. VAN WYCK said when the question came up the inquiry would be answered.

Mr. LOGAN, recurring to the fact in connection with the certificate of the destruction of eighteen millions of bonds, related the circumstances which justified his statement, particularly the circumstance that one of the clerks who had signed the certificate had told him he supposed it was done to cover up a reported loss of two millions of bonds. He declared his determination to puncture the rottenness of that rotten concern, the Treasury Department, and he notified the Committee on Retrenchment he would give it enough to do within the next four weeks, and he did not intend to be bought off, or scared, or driven off, but would do his duty in the face of all the power of all the Committees in earth and heaven. It was a rotten institution. He believed that the officials of the Treasury were defrauding the Government, not only by the sale of bonds, but by giving out dies and paying counterfeit bonds and duplicate bonds, and yet they found defenders on both sides of the capital to whitewash and call them honest men.

Adjourned.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—Some years ago a man named Miller, cashier of a bank at Jackson, Tenn., was murdered and the bank robbed of five thousand dollars in gold and about fifteen hundred dollars in paper money. The murder and robbery occurred after night and the murderer escaped. The affair remained in mystery until Walker, who was lynched last week in Maury county, Tennessee, was captured. Just before he was hanged he confessed the murder and robbery, and stated that he was only eighteen years of age when he perpetrated the horrible crime.

—The bill admitting Alabama (says a correspondent) will not pass the Senate until after the impeachment trial. It is contended that Alabama is not able to protect loyal people if military support be taken away, unless there is a change in the executive. Arkansas is looked upon as a safer State to try the experiment, and the opportunity for so doing will be offered next week.

—Theodore F. Cook, a young man, formerly employed by Evans & Howard, tile and fire brick manufacturers, of St. Louis, was brought to that city from Chicago on a requisition from Governor Fletcher, charged with having embezzled between eight and ten thousand dollars from the above named firm. Cook gave bonds to appear and answer.

—Col. McGallaway, editor of the Memphis Avalanche, has been arrested and is confined in jail at Memphis under a warrant issued by Judge Hunter, of the Criminal Court, sentencing him to ten days imprisonment and to pay ten dollars fine for an article in the Avalanche relative to the arrest of the local editor of that paper.

—The residence of Dr. James Richardson, on the Cumminsville pike, three miles from Cincinnati, was entered Wednesday morning, and robbed of $5,500 in United States five-twenty bonds and three hundred dollars worth of silver plate. The robbers escaped.

—Three-fourths of the town of Jefferson, Texas, was burned on the 3d inst. Fifty or sixty stores were destroyed and seven hundred bales of cotton. Loss, $400,000.

—Latest advices from Knoxville contradict the reported killing of two cavalrymen in Claiborne county. No collision occured. One of the distillers was arrested; the others escaped.

—The Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, embracing the States of Missouri and Arkansas, was in session at St. Louis yesterday.

—Haywood and Carrol counties, Tenn., have gone Republican.

Exploration of the Holy Land.

The committee in charge of the Palestine Exploration Fund continues its labors with marked success, by enlisting the services of Captains Warren and Wilson and Lieutenant Anderson as civil engineers. More than 2000 square miles have been accurately surveyed, more than 300 photographs taken, plans drawn of synagogues and ancient buildings, and in the first expedition no fewer than 49 sites astronomically fixed. At present the committee is concentrating its attention on Jerusalem, the interest in which may be said to sum up the interest in all other places. As truly remarked in the Saturday Review, "It is the Holy City of Jew, of Moslem, and of Christian alike." With the two heights, Zion on the west, and Moriah on the east, and with the valley between, the researches of the Exploration Fund have been as yet principally concerned. Zion was the city of David, the site of the palaces and tombs of the kings. Moriah is the site of the temple, now occupied by the Mosque of Omar. The cyclopean walls supporting the temple have been traced through the accumulate ruins and rubbish to a depth varying from 60 to 90 feet, and the wall itself has been shown to have reached 170 to 180 feet. The whole rock must have been honeycombed with aqueducts, cisterns, channels and passages. "It is something to see at last the mighty front of the Temple rocks as the Twelve saw it when they marvelled at the great stones which were still fresh from the chisel of Herod."

Underground Telegraphs.

The system of underground telegraph lines insulated with an asphalte compound, noticed so favorably in the Paris Exhibition, has lately been tried with highly satisfactory results by the Royal Engineers in the yard of the Brompton Barracks, at Chatham, England. This system, the invention of Mr. Donald Nicoll, consists in laying down a series of rigid sections, or rods of asphalte containing the wires, in trenches in the earth, as lengths of iron gas pipe are laid. These sections are in about twelve feet lengths, the conducting wires protruding at the ends, and being alternately left straight and twisted into "corkscrews." In planting the lines, the straight ends of one section are pushed into the "corkscrews" of the next, and so on. The blow of a hammer upon the "corkscrews" ensures perfect contact, and when the junction is filled in with melted asphalte perfect insulation is also effected. In this way a dozen joints may be insulated at once. A prominent feature of this system is that the insulating material is poured in at a temperature considerably above that of boiling water, so that if any moisture settles upon the ends of the sections it is driven off in the form of steam as soon as the melted insulator reaches it. The cost of laying is $100 a mile.

The Working People.

The strike at Fall River, Massachusetts, continues, and it is reported that on March 6th the weavers, to the number of several hundred, held a meeting, at which the Trade Union Committees were instructed to appoint sub-committees to wait upon the manufacturing agents, to make and receive proposals with reference to the terms upon which they should return to work. Speeches were made at that, and at an adjourned meeting next day, declaring that they would adhere to their demand for an increase of their wages to what they were prior to the first of January last. The spinners, who are on a strike, have also held meetings, at which it was resolved, that, as a body, they would adhere to their former intentions, and provisions were made for the families of those who were unable to seek employment elsewhere, while those who had no families depending upon them for support were advised to leave the city, and obtain labor wherever it could be found.

THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1868.

MR. JOHNSON has taken his "led captain," Thomas, to quarters in the White House, as Secretary of War ad interim. He proposes to set up a rival War Office of his own, keeping it under his own eye and requiring all papers from Gen. Grant to be forwarded to him direct. He will go a step farther in a day or two, it is said, and issue orders through Thomas as Secretary de facto. The malicious intent will be to "corner" Grant in a disobedience of such orders. He will probably be gratified in that respect, for the General will follow the example of Mr. McCulloch, who honors Mr. Stanton's requisitions while Thomas cannot get a dollar from the Treasury. Mr. Johnson's play is rapidly descending from genteel comedy to a miserable farce, and his advisers should recommend him to abandon it for some new sensation.

THE HOUSE having almost unanimously passed the bill, from the Ways and Means Committee, relieving from internal tax all manufactures except tobacco, oil, gas, liquors and wines, refusing at the instance of the Committee, to entertain a proposition for the reduction of the whisky tax to fifty cents, the suggestion of the Retrenchment Committee in favor of that reduction is not likely to be adopted. It is safe to presume that the opinion of the Ways and Means Committee, favoring the continuance of the two dollars tax, with the adoption of more stringent measures for its collection, will prove to be the sense of the House. And it is generally understood at Washington that the most efficient and formidable obstacle in the way of a faithful and honest administration of this part of our revenue system is now in a fair way for removal. An honest interpretion of the laws, and their harmonious execution by the Federal authorities acting as a unit once more, will have the effect to shell out the whisky "rings" and all other corrupt and illegal combinations from their present bomb-proof of high official protection.

THE HOUSE RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE recommends the admission of Alabama as soon as her Legislature shall have adopted the XIVth Amendatory Article. The report ascribes the failure of Alabama to adopt a Constitution to the prevalence of an unusually severe storm which detained voters from the polls, and to the frauds and intimidation by which the opposition also succeeded in diminishing the vote in its favor. They say that if every registered vote had been polled, there would still have been a large majority for the Constitution, while the "unfortunate" provision which required a majority of the registration would also have been satisfied. The Committee refer to the fact that, in response to the wishes of friends of the Union in that State, the House passed a bill repealing the requirement as to a majority of the registration, but the Senate "unaccountably" suffered this bill to sleep upon its files for two months, taking it up and passing it only after the mischief had been done. This tardy recognition of its principle, the Committee regards as sufficient for the present case.

The House will no doubt act in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee, but it is quite safe to predict that the Senate, which delayed action for so long a period when action was not only justifiable but necessary, will find reasons now, if it had no valid ones before, for subjecting the House bill for admission to a similar fate, at least until impeachment is disposed of.

ANDREW GREGG CURTIN.

Pennsylvania presents to the Republican party of the nation the name of ANDREW GREGG CURTIN for the second office within the gift of the people. No State in the Union can offer a more acceptable candidate, or a more worthy patriot or one whose past services better deserve hearty recognition and endorsement from the grateful loyal masses. Eminently faithful to his country in the darkest hour of treason and rebellion, unyielding in loyalty, unremitting in his efforts to strengthen the arm of the government when danger threatened, he has not only succeeded in making for himself a reputation in this Commonwealth that will live throughout all time on history's brightest page, but his name is treasured as that of a hero, and statesman wherever a soldiers' heart beats or a patriot's soul is lifted to heaven in thanksgiving for the final victory vouchsafed the national arms.

Pennsylvania is proud of her son. His record bears neither the blot of timidity nor the blur of duty ill-discharged. Through six long, weary, dreary years of wasting-war he held the helm of our most loyal of loyal States, and with courage, cheer and eloquence incited her sons to perform nobly their part in the grand work of maintaining the Government of their fathers—the flag born out of their independence, baptized in their blood. In the Executive Chamber, arranging with a master-hand the dull affairs of State, marshaling and organizing troops for immediate action and reserve; at the side of the Chief Executive of the nation, as counsellor and adviser, with words to enliven and bright hope to cheer and urge to continued and vigorous action; in the camp to gladden the heart of the soldier, and with golden oratory born from burning patriotism, to spur him on to fresh deeds of valor and action; in the hospital at the side of the sick, wounded and dying, whispering consolation, comforting, relieving and kneeling to catch the last words of love, the last message of the heart of the expiring hero to those whose dear forms crowded into his waning memory; as the friend, guardian and protector of the orphans of the nation's defenders, the founder of the benevolent schools for their care and tuition; in these and all his relations to the general Government and the people ANDREW G. CURTIN developed the true characteristics of the statesman, patriot, adviser, comforter, philanthropist and christian. Instinctively the people gathered about him, trusted in his executive ability, relied on his integrity and worshipped him as near as man can be worshipped by confiding fellow beings. When the war terminated and the hand of history marked closed the dark chapter of rebellion and paused while golden peace should gild the land, the name and fame of Gov. CURTIN was not forgotten. Debarred by constitutional provision the loyal citizens of the Commonwealth could not again select him to preside over the State, but followed him with their love, admiration and gratitude as he retired to private life with the consciousness of having performed his whole duty, and content to rest upon his important share of the common triumph secured by the American people over a wickedly prolonged rebellion.

In speaking out for GRANT, whose bright deeds on the field have embalmed him in the hearts of his countrymen, the Republicans of Pennsylvania have chosen a name worthy to be enrolled alongside that of the brave hero of the war, and the sister States of the Union are invited to fall into line and lend support and secure his nomination for the Vice Presidency. With GRANT and CURTIN at the mast-head, the Keystone State cannot fail to roll up an overwhelming majority for Union Republican principles.

We are pleased with the action of the Convention. Should its recommendation be favorably acted upon at the National meeting in Chicago, victory will perch on our banner in October and November next so sure as there is a sun in heaven or an earth beneath that sun.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

The positive refusal of England to submit to arbitration the two points which are essential to establish her non-liability to this country for the claims growing out of the depredations of the Alabama, has rendered farther negotiation futile as between the diplomatists of the two countries, and the international consideration of the question has apparently ceased. But this unsettled posture of an affair which is immediately and remotely filled with the gravest consequences to the two nations, is not only most unsatisfactory to the United States, but is far from being unanimously accepted as just or final in England.

The English side of the question may be stated thus:

1. She claims the absolute right as a neutral to concede belligerent privileges to other nations at war.

2. As a neutral power she maintains her neutrality by her municipal legislation to that end.

3. The sufficiency of that legislation to secure the end of neutrality is a matter entirely within her own discretion.

4. No other power is entitled to question her remissness, in point of fact, in enforcing her neutrality laws within the British Empire.

—And these positions she has held it inconsistent with her national honor and sovereign independence to permit to be called in question by other powers, or to submit them to arbitration.

On the part of the United States this ground is taken:

1. The right of England to concede the privileges of belligerency is admitted as a naked right, but the exercise of that right in the case of the Confederate States was a hasty and unfriendly act.

2. As a neutral power, recognizing belligerent parties, she was responsible for making that neutrality effectual and complete, by enacting and enforcing the proper legislation.

3. If the English legislation to that end already existing was imperfect, it was her bounden duty to amend and perfect it, in order to escape all just responsibility.

4. In point of fact, England was at fault; first, in the imperfection of her municipal legislation to that end; and, second, through her remissness and inefficiency in executing these laws, such as they were.

With these claims on either side, a reference of the dispute to arbitration, or to a mixed commission was impracticable. But the only really substantial conflict of opinion is that touching the right of a power to concede belligerent rights to others. We do not understand LORD STANLEY as now yielding this, nor should we ask it. The position of England in that respect is tenable; it is warranted by international law, and, in fact, this is admitted, substantially by our own diplomatists and writers. We shall suffer, therefore, by relying upon a position which is incapable of defence and should, at once, therefore, surrender that ground. The only serious difficulty in the way of settlement would thus be removed. Arbiters, or a mixed commission, should be fully empowered by both parties—

First—To recognize the absolute right of any power to concede belligerent privileges to others, according to its own supreme discretion.

Second—To declare that this concession must be accompanied by an absolute neutrality in point of fact, as between the powers belligerent.

Third—To inquire whether this neutrality has been maintained by sufficient municipal legislation, enforced with vigor and good faith; and

Fourth—To investigate and determine all just claims for damages resulting from the failure of the neutral power to maintain its neutrality.

The arbiters are not justified in taking into account any mere unfriendliness, rivalries or jealousies between the powers at issue, but should be properly confined to the consideration of the international law and its application to the given state of facts.

The facts of the Alabama controversy so-called were fully stated by Mr. LEFEVRE in the English Commons on Saturday. And he unqualifiedly accepts the American view of the law of nations touching neutrality. It is further and very significantly stated that England, recognizing the insufficiency of her own municipal legislation, instead of amending and perfecting the inadequate law, overstepped it at last, after the Alabama and other privateers had been permitted to leave her ports, and enforced a tardy neutrality by official acts wholly unsupported by the existing legislation, thus admitting her obligations as a neutral and the insufficiency of such legislation as she had provided. Mr. J. S. MILL admits the international law to be as claimed by the United States, and that, upon the question of fact, whether England was bound to prevent such expeditions as that of the Alabama, does not hesitate to declare that reparation is due to the United States. The Ministry and its supporters had nothing to say in reply except to defend the right of conceding belligerent privileges (which as a simple right is not seriously denied by the United States,) to express continued doubts as to any reparation being due, to insist that although negotiation had ceased, yet the question was still open, and to reiterate the belief that it might yet be peacefully and satisfactorily adjusted.

The London press considers the question as now rapidly advancing to an adjustment upon the American basis; which is evidently establishing itself as legal and sound. At Washington, also, the effect of the debate in the House of Commons has been to inspire in diplomatic and Congressional circles great confidence in the new policy with which Mr. D'ISRAELI seems disposed to signalize his advent to power. It needs only that the American Government should meet this new and amicable phase of the question in a corresponding spirit, to ensure a result acceptable to the two great nations.

THERE is a strong probability that the candidate of the Democratic party for the Presidency will be Mr. John T. Hoffman, the present Mayor of New York. The Eastern Democracy have never had any intention of nominating Pendleton, or of acquiescing in his nomination. Hoffman will be the candidate of New York and New England, and probably of Pennsylvania. The South will yield anything that is demanded by the New York mob, and that mob will be for Hoffman as certainly as the Cincinnati mob would be for Pendleton. Hoffman will, of course, be the "bondholders candidate in every sense of the word. A candidate is wanted, and must be had, who can carry New York. It is conceded that Pendleton could not carry the State, even if he could carry the city. Without the hope of securing the electoral vote of New York, there would be no use of running a Presidential ticket at all. No western man traveling upon a patent right for repudiating the public debt, and swamping the business of the country in two thousand millions of irredeemable shinplasters, can ever command the vote of the Empire State.

CIVIL OCCUPATION OF THE GRADUATES OF WEST POINT.—General Cullum, in his "Biographical Register of the Officers and Graduates of the United States Military Academy at West Point, gives a list of the positions which the graduates have filled, which is a most honorable record, showing that the benefit derived from the education imparted at this institution is not confined exclusively to military services. Among the graduates there have been 3 members of the Cabinet of the United States; 5 Ministers from the United States to foreign courts; 12 members of the United States Senate or House of Representatives; 5 Mayors of cities; 26 Presidents of Universities and Colleges; 35 Presidents of Railroads; 155 Civil Engineers; 10 Judges; 119 attorneys and counselors-at-law; 1 bishop; 15 clergymen; 78 merchants; 101 planters and farmers; 15 editors, and 75 authors, not to speak of artists, architects, surveyors, &c."

STATE NEWS.

—A new railroad is about to be commenced in the eastern part of the State. It is to begin at the Peachblossom Ferry, on the Susquehanna, and runs through the Delta, Gatchlville, Dallastown, Small's Mills and a number of other small places to York, where it will join the Northern Central. It will run through the finest limestone region in the State, and passes close by nearly a dozen large grist and saw mills, besides throwing open a large and productive region with fine farms and good water powers. An energetic pushing forward of the new project is desirable in the extreme.

—There were one hundred loaves of bread distributed among the poor in front of the Court House, Williamsport, at twelve o'clock on Friday, and such a distribution will be given every day at that time. Quite a number of women and children received temporary aid. This is a practical way of doing good.

—A gorge in the Conemaugh has flooded the low portions of Johnstown. Several other gorges exist farther up the stream, and fears are entertained of their breaking before the lower one does, in which case the destruction and damage to be anticipated is frightful. As yet no lives have been lost.

—The two furnaces of the Westerman Iron Company, at Sharon, turned out during the four weeks commencing January 12th and closing February 8th, 1,681 tons, and 900 tons of pig iron, being an average yield per day of a little over thirty tons each.

—A nail factory is to be established shortly, at Mechanicsburg, Cumberland.

—A soldier was cleaning his rifle the other day at the Carlisle Barracks, when it went off One side of his moustache was shot off but no harm was done.

—A two story frame house in Dodgetown was burned last week. The fire originated from the bursting of a kettle of boiling lard in which crullers were being fried. Beware of crullers!

—Scarlet fever is raging among the pupils of the Soldiers Orphans Home at Quakerville.

The Two Scenes.

[Correspondence of the Cincinnati Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Three years ago, to-day, a half drunken man swallowed a tumbler full of the best French brandy in the private room of Vice President Hamlin. Too maudlin to comprehend his action, and too high in place to be forcibly restrained, he turned within a moment, and just as the Vice President was seeking to put the bottle in a private closet beyond his reach, he seized it again, poured out another tumbler full, and, to the horror of the on-lookers, swallowed it at a gulp. A moment later, with over a pint of proof brandy thus poured into a stomach already inflamed by a drunken debauch that had lasted from Nashville to Washington, he entered the presence of Abraham Lincoln and his Cabinet, of Chief Justice Chase and the Associates of his exalted Court, of the Ministers of every civilized nation of the world, keeping up diplomatic relations with our own, and of a vast concourse, gathered in times of solemn peril, to witness the re-dedication of the Government to the work of establishing freedom and maintaining the territorial integrity of the Republic.

Before the high assemblage he reeled and staggered to a place where he might be clearly seen of all them; and with incoherent phrase and thick-tongued utterance, told that he was a plebeian, and boasted of his great exaltation, and lectured the diplomatic representatives of Christendom on the moral of the spectacle. And then, while Abraham Lincoln bowed his head in shame, the man mounted on till a subordinate was forced to check him; and, with such assistance as could be given, he was enabled to stumble through the oath of office and become Vice President of the United States.

Now, as we sit where we sat then, and look to the doors of the same chamber, we see the sequel of the career thus begun.

The white-headed Sergeant-at-Arms announces "the Managers of the House of Representatives, to present articles of impeachment." They enter in solemn procession. When the bustle and murmur in the galleries have died out; when the great crowd of Representatives have ranged themselves around the desks and shut in the Senate in the sweep; when the Speaker has gone up beside the President of the Senate, and the two stood where Hamlin and Johnson stood on the shameful 4th of March three years ago, the Managers rise from their seats in the semi-circle within the desks. As they stand, the whispers murmur away into silence through chamber and galleries, till the subdued, solemn tones of the Chairman of the Managers rise upon the stillness. Then follows the sad recital of the acts of the man who swore the oath on the 4th of March, 1865. At its close, the Managers walk slowly down the aisle and retire, followed by the crowd of Representatives that fill the space around the desks.

The scenes are complimentary, and each explains the other.

MENTAL DEPRESSION.

Mental depression is a disease of the nervous system, and, of all the ills flesh is heir to, it is the one that excites the least sympathy. It is a subject of frequent jests, and is called by various terms; but, although it is often laughed at, it is not easy to laugh the patient out of the belief that his ills are all real, for it is a real disorder—the general features of which are constant fear, anxiety and gloom. The external senses, as well as the mental faculties, often manifest symptoms of derangement. Noise, as of falling water and ringing in the ears are complained of, while black specks and fiery sparks frequently flit before the vision admonitions like these should not be disregarded, as they may, if neglected, terminate in insanity. The seat of the disease is in the brain and nervous system, and to control the malady it is necessary to use a powerful tonic and alterative, which will correct and tone those organs without inflaming the brain. This is the secret of the success of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS in cases of this kind for which it is the safest as well as the best of restoratives. In fact it is the only pure and reliable tonic [illegible] known. Many nostrums purporting to be tonics, are puffed up from time to time in the newspapers, but the sufferer had better let them alone. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS has proven itself, by many years of trial, to be in every respect what it is represented to be.

Chronic Diseases

The functions of the human body give way, usually one at a time. A disordered liver, or a slight irritation of the bronchial tubes, an obstruction in the skin or of the renal organs, are sure to be followed by pains and aches in various parts, according to the extent of the organic or functional injury. A man afflicted with dyspepsia will soon find more than the stomach at fault. The food that he swallows fails to renew the natural wear and waste, the worn out matter is deposited in some nook or cranney, where it causes irritation or pain, when it ought to be brown off and carried out of the system. Hundreds and thousands of just such sufferers have been relieved and restored to health and vigor by a few bottles of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, which not only imparts tone to the stomach and digestive organs, but likewise enriches the blood with the elementary principles needful to the restoration of the vital energy of the system. Be careful when you ask for it to get DR. KEYSER'S, for that is the kind, and the only kind, that has cured the numberless cases of disordered and broken constitutions. It was that which cured Mr. Boyd. It was that which cured John Titzell. It was that which cured Margaret McFarland. It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher which cured all the old chronic cases which we have published from time to time in these columns. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher has cured more cases of chronic diseases than any medicine of recent origin. Sold by the gross, dozen, or single bottle, at the Doctor's great medicine store, No. 140 WOOD STREET.

SECURITY AND COMFORT for THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.
J. B. HARRIS'
SAFETY FIRE JACKET,
Car Heater and Moderator,
For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature it may be desired, without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.
Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and I warranted to give perfect satisfaction in its use, where combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stoves, dwellings, factories, mills, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., where pipes or conductors are made dangerous by being overheated, and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either of State or county.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

A TRAGIC STORY.

TRANSLATED FROM THE GERMAN OF A CHAMISSO, BY W. M. THACKERAY.

There lived a sage in days of yore
And he a handsome pigtail wore;
But wondered much and sorrowed more,
Because it hung behind him.

He mus'd upon this curious case,
And swore he'd change the pigtail's place,
And have it hanging at his face,
Not dangling there behind him.

Says he, "The mystery I've found;
I'll turn me round." He turned him round,
But still it hung behind him.

Then round and round, and out and in,
All day the puzzled sage did spin;
In vain—it matterd not a pin—
The pigtail hung behind him.

And right and left, and round about,
And up and down, and in and out,
He turned; but still the pigtail stout
Hung heavily behind him.

And though his efforts never slack;
And though he twist and twirl, and tack;
Alas! still faithful to his back
The pigtail hangs behind him.

PERSONAL.

—Frederick Seward was in New York on Monday.

—Mrs. H. B. Stowe is stirring up the colored people in Richmond, Va.

—One hundred dollars a verse or five pounds per line is Tennyson's pay.

—Alexander H. Stephens is residing in Boston. Queer place for him to go to we think.

—E. L. Davenport is going to act in England; he is going by way of California and Australia.

—The greatest mathematician in Europe is said to be the Italian Prime Minister Gen. Menabrea.

—Philadelphia physicianesses are well paid. One returns an income, derived from her practice of $10,000.

—Rev. Morley Punshon is going to move to America from England in order to be able to marry his deceased wife's sister.

—Gen. Samuel D. Lucas, one of the pioneers of Missouri, died at his residence at Independence, on Sunday, aged sixty-nine years.

—Senator Hendricks, of Indiana, requests his friends not to present his name as a candidate for the Presidency. The Senator probably likes to waste his breath.

—Edwin Booth, having long been troubled by importunities to go abroad to play, seems at least to have succumbed. He will begin by playing next month in New Jersey.

—Washington is very gay with amusements. Ole Bull is there, La Grange and Brignoli are there, and so is Blind Tom, Belle Boyd too, and all of the politico-Congressional notables.

—The King of the Belgians has sent a handsome gold watch to the burgomaster of Zele, because he is hale and hearty in the possession of all his faculties and one hundred and two years old.

—Mrs. Senator Sprague thinks Andy is an ill-used man, and tells her father, the Chief Justice, and her husband, the Senator, that he has only stuck up for his rights and that they should aid him.

—Plon-Plon wants his cousin to go to war. Nothing but a good sound successful war will restore the popularity of the Napoleonic dynasty, says this disagreeably plain spoken cousin of the Emperor's.

—Carlotta is not as crazy as she was; not half. She wrote a letter to ask the Pope to pray for the soul of the ex-Emperor, and her note paper had as deep a black border to it as any note paper could have.

—Charles Dickens, whose greatest merit undoubtedly is the fact that Thackeray praised him, is getting bags ready in which to carry back to England his 30,000 pounds sterling in gold, which Americans have paid for looking at him.

—E. C. Markley, of the well known Philadelphia printing house of Crissy & Markley, died a week ago in Florida, where he had gone in search of health. Not a year ago died Mr. Crissy of the same firm, and the oldest printer in Philadelphia.

—Mr. Gladstone has abandoned the doctrines of Free Trade, and a popular movement is going on in England against it. It is stated that 15,000 tailors alone have been reduced to penury by the want of sufficient protection. If this is so in England what may we not anticipate from it here?

SOUTHERN DOINGS.

—A religious revival has been going on in the Presbyterian Church in Columbus, Ky.

—Bowling Green is to have water works and advertises for contractors to construct them.

—A Richmond paper thinks that the grape and wine production is soon to become a leading Virginia interest.

—Arkansas justice is swift and strong. Three men were recently followed, overtaken at Gaines' Landing, shot and killed for stealing corn.

—Montgomery City (Mo.) had a severe rain and hail storm on the 1st inst. This is the first rain that has fallen on that place since the 4th of July, 1867.

—Carroll county, Kentucky, has a fox hound which wears the champion silver collar, and its owner has challenged all other hounds to contest its right to do so.

—The Black Crook at Atlanta cost the people of Richmond county (Ga.) $10,000. The Augusta Constitutionalist calls it the "great immoral exhibition."

—An Alabama newspaper publishes the names of ten white men, said to be all who voted in Perry county at the late election. Of these it accuses eight of being candidates.

—Four hundred and sixty acres of good timbered land in Mississippi within three miles of the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad were sold at sheriff's sale recently for ninety one dollars.

—One hundred Germans have settled in South Carolina, twenty miles from Columbia. They are working so very quietly and energetically that the people in the neighborhood think of driving them away.

—The Kentucky farmers are hopeful again. They say that the wheat, rye and barley, although injured, are not completely killed off, and a pretty good crop may still be looked for.

—Justice though tardy is sure, and strikes men even in the third and fourth generations. The family of the great originator of our national troubles, John C. Calhoun, is reduced to penury. He is dead but he suffers in his children.

—Two men, named Hunt and Evans, indulged in a little difficulty in Franklin, Tenn., on Saturday. Evans shot Hunt in the mouth, depriving him of his teeth, his pallet and of the lower part of the back of his head. It is thought that he must die of his wound.

—A lot of little boys in Lebanon, Ky., started to roll a large log down hill, for the fun of the thing. One of the children, named Mattingly, got in front of the log just as it got started and he was rolled out flat and injured so badly that he died a couple of days afterwards.

—A Mr. Bradshawe who lives in the southern part of Missouri, set fire to the prairie grass to burn it from about his stables in order to protect them from prairie fires. After having, as he supposed, secured his property he went shooting. On his return he found his stables, barns and houses all destroyed by the fire which he himself had kindled.

—The Kuklux Klan move about pretty much as they please in Tennessee. On Saturday night a party of about one hundred, masked and fantastically dressed, dashed through Nashville and rode South. What their mission was has not yet been ascertained, but horrid tales of blood and outrage, plunder and terror follow their every appearance as surely as the thunder follows the lightning. A regular counteracting secret society whose oath will bind its members to pursue and punish every Kuklux in the State when discovered, is the only thing that seems capable now of overthrowing and exterminating these maggots which are infesting the dead body of the rebellion.

A GREAT FAMILY CONVENIENCE.

A new and novel arrangement for having

HOT WATER BOILERS

attached to the back end of common cook stoves, so that the waste blaze which goes up the stovepipe heats all the water needed in an ordinary sized family, by passing the blaze directly through the boiler, which sits over the pipe hole of the stove. Any person having a TRIUMPH, VICTORY, BLACK OAK BEAUTY or UNION STOVE, or almost any other Cook Stove made in the Union, can have Boilers attached to their Stoves, including the Attachment, the Boiler and Lids, and Bibb Cock, for the moderate cost of SEVEN DOLLARS, by applying to

MEDICAL.

A GREAT CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what it was to be free from the disease. I had to sit up in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 13th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband, Joseph Meyers, but I must confess, with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. Dr. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am today in vigorous health, and TOTALLY FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in awhile, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re-established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieves it. I cannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS,
MARY MOUNT JOY, (her mother,)
GEORGIANA FISHER.

Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The cure of Mrs. Myers, recited above, is one of more than ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks, their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character, inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as in hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, SIMON P. FISHER, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

The case above referred to was entirely cured by medicines to purify the blood, and it is witnessed by scores of persons who have known Miss Fisher, and have a knowledge of her total restoration to health, and the recovery of her sight, as the accompanying letter of her brother sets forth:

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, at 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

WEDNESDAY, March 11.—We erred in reporting that the jury in the case of John Taompson, indictment felonious assault and battery, on complaint of Cyrus Miller, found a verdict of guilty of assault and battery. The jury acquitted and the defendant was discharged.

Joseph Fisher, Daniel Gordon and John H. Clark, all colored, were placed on trial on three indictments—two for felonious assault and battery upon John and Alfred Gabby, and one for riot, on oath of Michael Geier. The defendants were engaged in the affray which occurred on West street, Third ward, Allegheny, in January last, which terminated in the shooting of the brothers Gabby, and the "cleaning out" of a colored house of ill repute on North Avenue, in which the colored men had taken refuge from an excited crowd of white persons. The disturbance first commenced in the beer saloon kept by Michael Geier, at Second and West streets, but was continued on the street, where the shooting occurred. The case went to the jury, but no verdict had been rendered at adjournment.

David Shaffer, toll gatherer on one of the Saw Mill Run ferry boats, was indicted for larceny as bailee on oath of John Gleason, residing at Corks Run. The prosecutor testified that a short time since, having crossed the river on the ferry, he gave the defendant a ten dollar bill out of which to take toll. Defendant handed him ninety-five cents, maintaining that he had received a "one dollar bill." That prosecutor insisted that he had given him a "ten." The defendant was positive that he was correct in his statement, and refused to make change for more than a one dollar bill. The case was on trial at adjournment.

Robbery.

William Wosmuth, a farmer, residing in Robinson township, was robbed on Tuesday evening by George Almut, of eighty dollars. Almut, it appears, was employed as a hand on the farm, and being familiar with the house, knew that the money was kept in a trunk. Tuesday morning, shortly after breakfast, he left the house in his shirt sleeves, saying that he was going to the Postoffice, which was about half a mile distant, to mail a letter. He did not return as expected, and at twelve o'clock Mr. W., who had been at work on the farm, returned to the house, and upon going to his trunk found that it had been broken open and the eighty dollars, which was all the money it contained, taken out. Suspicion at once fell upon Almut, and a son of Mr. Wosmuth's started in pursuit of him. He came to the city and made the matter known to the police, giving a description of the man; but at last accounts he had obtained no clue as to his whereabouts.

A Female Row.—Eliza Kent, yesterday made information before Mayor Blackmore charging Ellen Mary and Rebecca Haskins with assault and battery; and also an information for surety of the peace. There appears to have been a war raging between the parties for some time past. A warrant was issued.

Released on Bail.—John Johnson, who was arrested on a charge of felonious assault and battery, for stabbing Isaac Johnson, a colored man, a full account of which we published on Tuesday, was released on giving bail in the sum of $1,000. The injured man is rapidly recovering from his wounds.

The Streets.—The Street Commissioners of the different districts are actively working to have the streets put in proper condition. A few more days of such pleasant weather as we have had during the present week and our streets will present quite a different appearance.

Millvale Borough Council—Organization—Election of Officers, &c.

The members elect of the Council of the new borough of Millvale, erected out of portions of Duquesne borough and Shaler township, met in the public school house last evening for the purpose of organizing.

The meeting was called to order by John G. Williams, Burgess, and on motion John G. Brown, Esq., was appointed Clerk pro tem. The roll of members elect was called and the following answered: Burgess Williams, D. Johnston, D. Demsey, M. O'Donnell, F. Seebrook, E. Coats J. G. Brown. The oath of office was administered by Mr. Brown, after which he was sworn in by the Burgess.

Councils then proceeded to an election of officers to serve for the ensuing year, with the following result:

Solicitor—F. A. Collier; Street Commissioner—Hugh A. Woods; Collector—A. McF. Johnson; Treasurer—E. A. Reed; Wharf Master—Josiah Riley. The election of clerk was deferred. The Burgess announced the following standing committees: Finance — Messrs. Johnson, Coats and O'Donnell; Ordinances—Messrs. Coates, Seebrook and Dempsey.

On Motion the Burgess was authorized to procure a competent person to prepare a plot of the borough, and to confer with Mr. M'Hendry as to the cost of establishing the grades of streets.

A motion was adopted fixing the first Wednesday evening of each month as the time for holding regular meetings of the Council.

M. A. Maddox was elected janitor, after which Council adjourned.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—M'lle Zoe played the "Greek Corsair" at the Opera House to a large audience, last night. Her acting was unexceptional, and the entire audience evinced their approbation of it by repeated encores. The entertainment concluded with "Robert Emmett," which was rendered by the company in an admirable manner. To-night M'lle Zoe gives us the "Wizzard Skiff" and the "Broken Sword." The skillful manner in which she handles the broad sword, is only equalled by the wonderful powers of endurance she exhibits.

OLD FOLKS CONCERT.—This evening, at Masonic Hall, the "Old Folks Concert," which was given a short time since, will be repeated. As some of the best musical talent in the city is engaged in the enterprise, a rich treat may be anticipated. During the entertainment several interesting and amusing features will be introduced, among which will be an olden time singing school, with tallow candles. Tickets for sale at the music and book stores and at the door.

Pittsburgh Female College—Annual Essay Contest.

To-morrow evening the friends and patrons of that sterling and deservedly popular institution of our city, the Pittsburgh Female College, are offered an intellectual treat, in the annual essay contest. Heretofore their contests have excited great interest, the entertainments being of the highest order, and we feel sure the coming occasion will not prove an exception in this regard. Instrumental and vocal music will add much to the pleasure of the evening. It has been arranged to close the exercises in time to allow those attending from the rural districts to return home by late trains of the Pennsylvania Central and Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroads. The judges selected for the occasion are Dr. S. H. Nesbitt, editor of the Christian Advocate, Dr. James Allison, editor of the Presbyterian Banner, and Dr. L. F. Morgan, Pastor of Christ's Church.

Vaupell & Webber

The well-known photographic artists, corner of Fifth and Market streets, are about to dissolve their co-partnership. Persons having "work" there are requested to call and take it away before the first of April. Mr. Webber will still continue in the business at Nos. 2 and 4 St. Clair street, near the Suspension bridge, in conjunction with Mr. Allbee, where he hopes to see his old patrons, and merit a continuance of their favors. They will have the quickest working light in the city, and will do quite an extensive business in taking life size portraits. Mr. Allbee will pay his attention to landscape views, private residences, &c., stereoscopic and plain. All persons who call will be afforded perfect satisfaction.

Sale of Unclaimed Freight.

The sale of unclaimed freight in the hands of the Adams Express Company, which took place Monday and Tuesday at the auction rooms of Palmer & Phillips, No. 60 Fifth street, was largely attended, and the amount of goods sold in so short a time appears almost incredible. A large sum of money was realized to the Company by the sale, and many excellent bargains were purchased. The firm of Palmer & Phillips is growing into favor very rapidly, and is now one of the leading auction establishments in the city. The members of the firm are well known and enjoy a high reputation for honesty, promptness and efficiency in business.

Daring Robbery.—Yesterday between twelve and one o'clock, some enterprising and decidedly daring thief entered the house of Mrs. Gazoia, on Wylie street, went up stairs to a bed room and took from a bureau drawer fifty-five dollars in greenbacks, seven or eight dollars in silver, and a silver watch and hair chain. The theft was discovered by Mrs. G. about one o'clock. She went to the room for something and found the drawers of the bureau broken open and rifled of the most valuable portion of their contents.

Malicious Mischief.—Michael Furey made information before Alderman Thomas yesterday, charging Patrick Leonard with malicious mischief. Furey alleges that Leonard came to his house, kicked his door down and demolished the windows. A warrant was issued, the defendant arrested, and after a hearing was committed to jail in default of the required bail for his appearance at Court.

A Public Nuisance.—Wilson N. Fleming made information before Mayor Blackmore, yesterday, charging D. W. C. Bidwell and Henry Phipps, Jr., with maintaining a public nuisance. The accused are proprietors of a powder magazine near Four Mile Run, which it appears the citizens demand to have removed. A warrant was issued.

Keeping a Gambling House.—Mary Dougherty made information before Alderman Taylor yesterday, charging Henry Meyers, a tavern keeper at McKinney's Station, with keeping a gambling house. She also made information charging him with selling liquor on Sunday. Meyers was arrested and held for a hearing on both charges.

Identified.—The body to which we referred yesterday as having been found in the Ohio river near Glendale station, was identified yesterday by Mrs. Hines, as that of her husband, Brutus Hines, and was removed to her residence, corner of Third street and Redoubt alley.

Recaptured.—Mary Sheehan, who has for some time past been an inmate of the insane department of the City Poor Farm, and escaped a few days since, was arrested last evening and taken to the lock-up. She will be returned to-day.

Committed.—Petro Hardi, charged before Justice Ammon of East Birmingham, on oath of Johanna Fink, with rape, was arrested and after a hearing committed to jail in default of the required bail for his appearance at Court.

Funeral of A. V. Scott.—The funeral of Mr. Alex. V. Scott will take place this afternoon, at two o'clock. The funeral services will be held in the Sixth Presbyterian Church, (Rev. Prof. Wilson's,) Franklin street.

Accident.—John Evans, foreman of the blacksmith shops at Anderson & Cook's Steel Works, had the thumb of his right hand cut off at the first joint yesterday morning, while engaged at work at the shears.

The Lock-Up.—Business was quite dull at the lock-up last night. There were but five cases on hand at twelve o'clock, all "drunks" and "disorderlies," except one, an insane woman.

Allegheny Councils.—A regular semi-monthly meeting of Allegheny City Councils will be held in the Council Chambers, City Building, this (Thursday) evening, March 12th, at 7 o'clock.

The Continental.

In speaking of the "Continental" we do not refer to the Continental Congress or the Continental money in use some ninety years ago, but it is to the Continental Dining Saloon on Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice, of which our friend Mr. Wm. Holtzheimer is the proprietor, that we desire to call attention. Mr. H. understands his business perfectly, as the excellent manner in which the "Continental" is "run" gives ample evidence. It is certainly a model saloon, as its patrons can fully testify. The tables of the "Continental" are always supplied with the best the market affords, of everything in the line of eatables, and the style in which dishes are served is unsurpassable. When you want anything good to eat go to Holtzheimer's, on Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice.

Weather Inconvenience.—The present weather is very likely to produce serious inconvenience to housekeepers, in the way of bursted pipes in houses, yards and on streets. To those of our friends so annoyed, we commend Mr. T. T. Ewens, practical steam and gas fitter and plumber, No. 165 Wood street. He attends to repairing or new work of every description in the very best manner, at the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms. We commend him as a thorough and finished workman, and as in every respect worthy the patronage of the community.

The Fashionable watering places and country resorts are preparing for the coming season, and so is our friend Joseph Liebler, proprietor of the Premium Trunk Factory, No. 104 Wood street. He has in store some of the finest selections of trunks, carpet sacks, valices, and traveling bags of all descriptions, which he offers his wholesale and retail patrons at very reasonable prices. Any of our readers needing anything in this line are earnestly recommended to favor this exclusively trunk house with a purchasing visit.

In the meanwhile great bargains are offered at the old stand, No. 29 Fifth street, as the firm are anxious to close out their entire stock, and have nothing but fresh goods in their new establishment.

Canned Fruits, pure mustards, rich spices, unadulterated syrups, fragrant coffees, fine and coarse sugars, best raisins, citrons, dried fruits and general housekeeping supplies at very reasonable prices will be found at the established tea mart of Joseph A. Robinson, No. 20 Fifth street. The entire stock is fresh and cannot fail to afford the highest satisfaction to purchasers.

Why not Buy when you can buy so cheap? The way we are selling goods at private sales, day and evening, is convincing the most skeptical that the cheapest place to buy is at Palmer & Phillips, No. 60 Fifth street. Boots, shoes, dry goods, carpets, clothing, cutlery, furs, hats, caps and notions at auction prices.

Fresh Groceries.—The enterprising grocery and produce firm of Messrs. McBride & George, No. 164 Federal st., Allegheny City, daily receive fresh invoices of choice groceries, embracing everything in their line, which they offer their wholesale and retail patrons at very reasonable prices.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, March 11, 1868. }

The gold market was steady to-day at 139¼; the lowest quotation was 139⅛, and the highest 139¾, with very light transactions. It does not seem as if gold had reached its lowest point before any influence of the May coupon payment is exerted; the tendency is still downward, so long as there is no political agitation and our exports continue as heavy as heretofore. The amount of our imports have exceeded twenty millions, which is covered by the shipment of 12 millions of specie, but recently our exports have been heavy, which, by taking into consideration the large amounts of foreign capital held here for investment and still coming in, may offset the remaining difference between export and import.

Government bonds were very dull and lower to-day, with large offers to sell; the advance of the rate on call loans, and the unfavorable bank statement have had a depressing influence on the bonds, more so than the bills introduced in Congress to force holders to an acceptance of 5 per cent. gold interest. Little confidence is placed in the proposition to issue more national money, as a means to improve the business of the country. The stock market is gradually drooping for want of cheap money.

An anticipated further decline in Government bonds has released a large amount of money seeking investment in the local securities and Railroad bonds; considerable amounts of Allegheny Valley Railroad bonds have been transferred from Philadelphia. Pittsburgh and Connellsville bonds are more in favor.

Business is beginning to be more active, but it is nothing compared with the seasons of 1867 and 1866—everybody is trying to curtail expenses.

Closing New York quotations, received by Ph. R. Mertz, are as follows:

Gold, 139¼; 1881's, 110¼; 5-20s, 1862, 109¾; 1864, 107½; 1865, 107⅝; Consols, 106⅝; 10-40s 101; 7-30s, 105⅛.

—The New York Times states that Mr. Jay Cooke has written to Senator Sherman a letter protesting against any and all attempts, by threat or otherwise, to alarm or impair the confidence of the bondholders of the United States. Its sound reasoning and logical deductions from the legislation of Congress during the war, concern alike all the bondholders of the United States, as it would be an act of policy to attempt to discriminate in the intrinsic value or security of any class of bonds paying interest in gold, and the principal of which must in good faith be paid in gold whenever the Treasury is prepared to pay it at all, if an exception is attempted, where the very first great loan act provided the means in gold for both principal and interest, to wit: the customs revenues upon the surplus of which, in gold, the sinking fund has now a claim equal to 1 per cent. a year upon the whole public debt as it stood at the close, respectively, of the fiscal years ending June 30, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866 and 1867. That this fund has not been properly instituted or administered by the Secretary of the Treasury is not the fault of Congress. That it may yet be attended to, and at an early day, through the application of part of the surplus gold that should belong to it, we have some reason to hope, if only to the extent of the arrearages due to the 5-20 bonds and registered stock of 1862, which compounded to the 30th June next, are equivalent to about $35,000,000 in gold, or $50,000,000 in currency. This provision is the easiest solution to the questions of the disposition of the excess of gold revenues over the annual charge upon them for gold interest, and of the gradual reimbursement of the principal of the gold-bearing public debt; and Congress expressly provided that this sinking fund should not be impaired by the joint resolution of March, 1864, which conferred authority upon the Secretary to dispose of the gold in the Treasury. What the customs revenues thus pledged to be collected exclusively in gold, and to be applied to the public debt, have yielded since the act of February, 1862, as compared with the charges upon them imposed by that act, may be illustrated by the following tables, bearing in mind that the act recited, first, the payment of the annual interest on the funded debt; secondly, "to the purchase or payment of one per centum of the entire debt of the United States, to be made within each fiscal year after the 1st of July, 1862," and thirdly, the residue thereof to be paid into the Treasury, for its general uses, including such principal of the pre-existing public debt as it fell due:

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, March 11, 1868. }

CRUDE.—The market was exceedingly quiet and rather dull to-day, the transactions, in the aggregate, being unusually light, and, compared with yesterday, prices are a shade lower. We can report a sale of 240 bbls, in bulk cars, for immediate delivery, at 8c, and 1000 bbls for all this month, seller's option, at 8½c. We are cognizant of an offer to sell April at 8¾, with 8c offered. These figures contrasted with those of Monday and Tuesday, show a decline of from one quarter to one-half cent per gallon, and even at the reduction, the demand was by no means urgent, buyers, as is nearly always the case on a declining market, seeming disposed to hold off in expectation of a still further reduction. Oil City telegrams quote at $3,15@3,25.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was also dull and weak to-day, and as in the case of crude, prices are a shade lower. The last half of March, which sold yesterday at 24¾@24½c, was effected to-day at 21c without finding takers. While there was nothing said in regard to it, we presume that future deliveries are offered as well as present, though, as has been the case for some time, there is little or no oil offering in this market, and the great proportion of the sales reported for some days past were purchases in Philadelphia on Pittsburgh account—bought by Pittsburgh refiners and speculators to cover "short" sales.

BENZINE—Is quiet with a steady demand at 15c, delivered in Philadelphia. Residuum is very dull and cannot be correctly quoted, in consequence of the fact that there are no sales on which to base a quotation.

STOCKS.

The sudden closeness of money has necessitated a good deal of realizing upon stocks, and prices have fallen off ½@1 per cent. Erie has been less affected by the tying up of money than was expected, the blow being especially intended for the stocks. The market was stronger towards the close, with a general recovery from the lowest point.

The Express says it is now evident that of the ten millions of dollars of convertible bonds of the Erie Company, authorized by the Executive Committee, from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 have been converted with common stock and sold on the street. This was done through Fisk, Belden & Co. This firm have been getting checks, which have been held, thus virtually locking up greenbacks. The firm in question keep an account with the Tenth National Bank, and this institution has therefore become a creditor to the clearing house to a very large amount. The certified checks amount to $3,000,000, and the officers and directors requested Fisk, Belden & Co. to turn in the checks and take the greenbacks, and also withdraw their accounts. This is really the cause of money stringency.

RIVER NEWS

The river was again rising steadily last evening with seventeen and a-half feet in the channel by the Allegheny and sixteen and a-half by the Monongahela marks. The weather yesterday was mild and pleasant, and all that could possibly be desired for the transaction of out-door business.

There have been no arrivals as yet, though there are several boats due, among others, the Julia No. 2, from Zanesville, Grey Eagle from Parkersburg, and the R. C. Gray, from Cairo.

There departures were the Argosy, for Cincinnati, Kenton, for Louisville, and the Maggie Hays and Armadillo, for St. Louis. All of these boats had splendid trips—the Armadillo was crowded with passengers, and the same, we believe, is true of the others. The Mary Davage and barges, in command of Captain Campbell, will positively leave for St. Louis this morning.

Business was again quite active at the landing yesterday, and everything connected with steamboats presents a more cheerful appearance. One thing that tends to draw out freights is the remarkably low rates, and shippers are not slow in taking advantage of this, their opportunity.

MONS COAL—In addition to the list of boats taking out coal, published yesterday, we have the following additional reported:

	Bushels.
Eagle for Louisville	90,000
Grand Lake for New Orleans	120,000
V. F. Wilson for New Orleans	100,000
Little Alps for Louisville	60,000
Total	370,000
Previously reported	3,475,000
Grand Total	3,845,000

The Robt. Moore left for Portsmouth yesterday with a very good trip. Com. Kerr thinks he has one of the best boats that comes to this wharf.

The new mountain steamer Sallie, Captain Calhoun, is filling up rapidly for St. Louis and the Upper Missouri, and will be the first boat out.

Captain Charles Beers was one of the pilots of the Armadillo. He expects to load the Rob Roy at Cincinnati for the mountains.

The Waunita, Capt. Thomas Shuman, is announced for St. Louis and Missouri River, and will load in turn af er the Sallie. Com. Kountz's new mountain st amers Peninah and Andrew Ackley, are announced for the mountains.

The J. N. McCullough, Capt. Geo. D. Moore, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at 12 o'clock, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The New York will not be put up at auction sale on Saturday, as has been reported, the cause for such a movement having been removed by the Captain buying out the interest of a dissatisfied owner.

The Bellevernon passed Evansville on Monday, en route from St. Louis to Pittsburgh. The Wild Duck was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Tuesday, and the St. Charles is advertised to sail on Thursday.

The Nashville Gazette, of Saturday, says: The W. F. Curtis left the upper wharf yesterday afternoon, at about 7 o'clock, for Kanawha and had in tow a barge, and in trying to pass the piers of the railroad bridge struck one of them and stove in a portion of her hull, losing a portion of her freight. Fortunately there were no passengers aboard. The boat was hauled into the work house landing and saved. The barge, we understand, was sunk.

The Leavenworth (Kansas) Times, of Friday last, says: There is but 22 inches at Port William; there is but 20 inches a short distance above Weston. About 14 miles above St. Joe the water was so low that cattle waded across just after the ice went out. A man who has resided there 17 years says the river at that point has not been so low by 18 inches since he has lived there. The Nymph No. 2 struck a rock at Sibley on Wednesday, and sunk in 4 feet water. She was loaded with 3,000 bushels of coal and bound for this city. Her deck was not covered, and unless she should break up her cargo can be saved. She sunk in 20 minutes after she struck. Her pilots says she appears to be split in the middle, and that she must be a total loss. We hear that she was insured for $8,000. That is about what she is worth.

A St. Louis telegram, under date of Monday, says: The river here is rising slowly. There is seven feet water to Cairo, and it is expected to go up to twelve feet; but no higher unless the rains of this morning and last night were general. The Missouri has risen considerably at St. Joseph and below. The ice is gorged at Omaha. Snow fell in the mountain region on Thursday and Friday, almost assuring good water for the Benton boats. The Upper Mississippi rose thirty inches at Keokuk yesterday. The Illinois is reported booming. It is not yet probable that there will be a freshet in the Lower Mississippi, although there will be high water in all the streams above here. Business is still dull. The Republic has not yet decided whether to load or lay up. The Glendale, Champion and Armenia are here. Joab Lawrence will purchase the Starlight on her arrival from New Orleans, if she proves suitable.

The St. Louis Republican, of Monday, says: Steamboat sales were quite lively yesterday, no less than three being reported, viz: Sam Gaty, by Captain E. A. Stabile, for account of the St. Louis and Peoria Packet Company, to Captain Fred. Dexter, for $9,500. Deer Lodge, by the Memphis Packet Company, to Joab Lawrence, for the Northwestern Packet Company, at $16,500. Starlight, by Captain Ben. F. Davidson, also to Joab Lawrence, for the same company, price $12,000. Several other transfers are on the "tapis," which may be consummated to-morrow or next day.

A late Memphis paper says: The Hon. Jno. Morrissey arrived in the city yesterday, en route to the Hot Springs for his health. Capt. John R. Davis, Superintendent of the White River Packet Company, who is noted for his spirited enterprise, tendered to Mr. Morrissey the hospitalities of his boat, which he accepted. The gentlemanly officers of the Liberty No. 2 will make the trip pleasant for the "Hon. M. C."

The Groesbeck stuck in the mud at the head of the canal Saturday, but rubbed through with but little delay.

As the General Quitman passed Lake Providence, a duel was on the tapis between G. W. Smith, the wharfboat proprietor at that point, and Mr. Cicero Allen, who, in connection with his brother, Columbus Allen, of the New Orleans levee, is very generally known by river men.
